1. I do not have me t o read a 224-page preparedness plan for territory beyond our jurisdicon and improbable indiciets.
2. The online plan is not a searchable PDF, making search the same as going to the library.
3. You would do well to convert the report to searchable PDF.

Plan Review

Page	Section	Recommended Change	Reason for Change (if applicable)
	4	Add mosquito control to list of hazards.	Increasing frequency of mosquito-borne disease in OH.
	5	Add anti-mosquito measures.
		Reasoning: Although disease is usually the concern of Health Dept., large-scale mosquito control will take resources of county maintenance workers. Poor mosquito control increases incidence of diseases like West Nile virus and reduces citizen's ability to exercise outdoors. Recommend cooperating with existing mosquito control to improve Clermont County's health/safety, esp. children and elderly. Neighborhood awareness campaigns especially recommended.

You talk about mitigation plans but it's OK for you to put the county and especially the people in the higher S echelon to let this happen to property in a subdivision to a family who is lived here for 35 years and just recently built their new home in a county that is so high in school revenue but we built anyway now you are tearing apart our property for what reason because you are covering Carl Lamping butt or you might not know how he runs permit central or covers his own butt but if our property does not get looked at then (don't you think it should)?

Regarding all Hazards resulting in loss of power: Our residence is not alone in the county dependant on a cistern or well for water and sanitation. Loss of power for us and others in this situation has a much grater impact on ALL these life-necessary utilities than residences served with city water and sanitary sewer systems. Instead of being at the very bottom of the priority list for restoration of electrical service, perhaps some preference should be given to those who lose Every utility when the power is disrupted.

Plerce Township will benefit from added section regarding Landslides as proposed. Previous plan did not seem to specifically address slope stabilization and stream restoration necessary to protect roadways and other public infrastructure.
